TAC Junior Women Championships

By HOWARD WILLMAN

June 30-July 1, Drake Stadium, UCLA, Westwood: The Athletics Congress National Junior Women's Championships.

American junior long jump record holder Carol Lewis was the only double-winner in the 10th rendition of this meet, one that saw three meet records, five national high school season bests and only three of seven defending champions repeating.

Lewis, younger sister of national champ Carl Lewis (sea-level world record holder in the long jump), ran her career individual junior titles to five. Her 100 hurdles victory was her second ('80) and her long jump win was her third in that event ('78, '79). Counting relays, she now has eight junior titles, with one coming this year in the 800 medley relay.

Her 20-11 1/4 effort in the long jump was good enough to break her own meet record of 20-4 1/4 set in 1979. Other meet records came in the 3,000 meters (Gateway TC's Ceci Hopp running 9:21.0) and the shot put (Natalie Kaaiawahia tossing the 4-kilogram ball 52-2 3/4).

Hopp's effort put the national cross country champion third on the all-time U.S. Junior list and fourth on the all-time national high school list. Vickie Cook (Alemany, Mission Hills), California's two-time state champ at 3,200 meters, was with Hopp until the end and came through with a fine 9:22.3 clocking, good enough for fourth on the Junior list and fifth on the high school list.

Kaaiawahia, national high school and junior record holder from Fullerton, obliterated the shot record with a 52-2 3/4 effort, less than two inches off her national record. Deborah Corley (Garces, Bakersfield) followed with a PR 47-9 3/4, second best high school mark this season and 13th all-time.

The five national high school season bests were established in the long jump (Lewis), 3,000 (Hopp), 100 (Michele Glover), 1,500 (Kim Gallagher) and 400 hurdles (Tracy Nelson).

Unseated defending champs were Berkeley's Sharon Ware in the 100 (third), Glover in the 200 (second), collegian Cathy Rattray in the 400 (third) and Laura Craven in the 3,000 (fourth). Successful defenders were Lewis in the 100 hurdles, Nelson in the 400 hurdles and Sue Lind in the high jump.

Nelson, in winning the 400 hurdles, moved to fourth on both the all-time Junior and high school lists with a time of 58.56. Following in second and third were Margaret Demorest (Buchser, Santa Clara) in 59.30 and Gayle Kellon (Walnut) in 59.44, moving them to 10th and 11th, respectively, on the all-time high school list.

The highly anticipated 1,500 duel between Gallagher, national 800 high school record holder (2:01.82), and two-time California 1,600 champ Polly Plumer (University, Irvine) became a one-woman show with 300 meters to go as Gallagher bolted away from the field and won by more than five seconds in 4:19.77, sixth all-time junior and seventh high school. Plumer PR'd for second in 4:25.06.

Other all-time makers were Glover in the 100 (11.42, fourth on both junior and high school lists) and Cindy Johnson in the discus (165-2, third on the junior list and fourth high school).

Notable efforts by other Californians included: Inger Peterson's (Dorsey, L.A.) second in the 100 (11.62); TAC senior 400 champ Deane Howard's (Kennedy, Granada Hills) winning the 200 (23.42 wind-aided); Jessica Spies' (Livermore) second in the 800 (2:05.84); Sabrina Williams' (Valley Christian, Carritos) second in the long jump (19-11 1/4); and Deena Bernstein's (Newbury Park) third in the javelin (153-0).

In the two-mile relay, Coast Athletics triumphed in near-record time over distance powerhouse Liberty AC from Boston and the San Jose Cindergals. Coast's fine team was made up of Rennie Durand, Jackie King, Plumer, and Donna Curtis. Curtis (800) and Plumer (1,600) were both state champs this year. Fastest split was turned by the Cindergals' Spies (2:10.2).

The L.A. Mercuresses cleanded up in the sprint relays, taking one first, one second, one third and two fifths.
