

Gibson Young may not be a one-man track team but he proved to be the nucleus of a winning one yesterday when Washington College romped away with first place in the first Mason-Dixon Conference track and field meet at Homewood. Young accounted personally for 20 of the Shoremen's 50 points, with victories in both dashes, the 120-yard high hurdles, third in the pole vault and fourth in the broad jump.

It was a surprising triumph for the team from Chestertown, which is comparatively new to the cinder-path sport when compared with contestants like Catholic University, the University of Delaware and Johns Hopkins.

Catholic University finished second with 38 points, and Delaware, Johns Hopkins and Randolph-Macon, other contenders, were bunched in that order. Gallaudet, Western Maryland, American University and the University of Baltimore finished far down the list in points scored.

Times Are Notable

Not only was Young's scoring a feature of the meet but his times in the three victories were notable, running as he did in the face of a brisk wind. He ran the 100 in 10.2 seconds, the 220 in 23.2 seconds, and the grueling high hurdles in 16.3 seconds.

McMahan, distance runner who won the two-mile and finished second in the mile, and Tully, who placed in three events, gave Young the most support with nine points each. Catholic University, finishing second in points, failed to score a first place, piling up its total with seconds and thirds.

J. Carey, of Delaware, was outstanding in the weights, winning the javelin and discus with distances achieved in the heats held earlier in the day. He also finished fourth in the shotput, won by Drozdov, a teammate.

Hopkins Gets Two Firsts

Johns Hopkins landed two first places, Lewis winning the broad jump and O'Neill taking the low hurdles. Jarman, a teammate, ran second in this race.

The Jays experienced some tough luck when their speedy sprinter, Baetjer, injured his foot in the 100 and not only failed to finish this race but also had to withdraw from the 220. His qualifying time in the trials in the morning had indicated that he would be well up in both.

Burnett, lanky middle-distance man from Gallaudet, scored personal triumphs in the half-mile and mile runs winning both with ease. C. E. T.
