Spurred on by Sam Lee's upset victory in the 220-yard dash, Catholic University's trackmen outran 11 opponents to win the 16th annual Mason-Dixon Conference track and field championship yesterday at their home stadium.

The Cardinals scored 44 points to 40½ for Bridgewater College, which had been figured as the pre-meet favorite. Victory in the mile relay, final running event of the day, gave CU its sixth conference crown.

Washington College was third with 32 points, followed by Johns Hopkins with 22, Lynchburg, 18; Randolph-Macon, 11; American University and Gallaudet, 10 each; Roanoke, 8; Hampden-Sydney, 7; Loyola, 5½, and Towson, 2.
